Third, the Modi government focused a great deal on digitisation (see Figure 10.15). The term 'digital' hardly ever found a mention in budget speeches over the years. That, however, changed in 2017 as a result of demonetisation and the government's push towards a less-cash economy. In Budgets 2017-18, 2018-19 and 2019-20, the term was referred to twenty-nine, ten and sixteen times respectively.
