was made this way to create more pleasing proportions for the interior.

Most of the interior is a sanctuary (a sacred place) surrounded by a white-marble screen, six feet tall. The screen is carved in such detail that it looks like lace.

