

Now there are several anti-pollution efforts to protect the Taj Mahal. Only lead-free gasoline is sold in Agra. People now must cook with propane.

Between two and three million people visit the Taj Mahal every year. Most of them are from India. Tourism is a good thing. But it is also a bad thing because huge crowds cause some damage to the monument. Today, gasoline-powered vehicles are not allowed within 550 yards of the Taj Mahal. Visitors must ride electric-powered buses or carts drawn by animals.
