preparing him to guide the people of Tibet. The Dalai Lama knew his people expected a lot from him. He wanted to do great things for them, too.

