religion or traditions. They wanted Tibetans to change their ways and become Communists, too.

The Chinese government sent soldiers over the border into Tibet. These military troops were called the People's Liberation Army (PLA). Liberation means freedom. The Chinese believed that they were going to liberate, or free, Tibet from its old ways.

