including Italy, Switzerland, and Austria. And he visited the United States and Canada for the first time in 1979. He was helping the world open their eyes to the unfair treatment of Tibetans.

His Holiness the Dalai Lama greets Pope Paul VI

When Mao Tse-tung died in September 1976, the Dalai Lama looked for a sign of hope. It had been raining, but when it stopped, a rainbow appeared. “I was certain that it must be a good omen,” the forty-one-year-old monk said.

And, sure enough, the Chinese invited the Dalai Lama back to Tibet! But they would not give Tibet independence from China. They wanted to keep
