ensured and there was no question of going back til the missile systems had been successful y deployed in the battlefield.

While the process of forming teams and organizing work was going on, I found that the space available at DRDL was grossly inadequate to meet the enhanced requirements of IGMDP. Some of the facilities would have to be located at a nearby site. The missile integration and checkout facility built during the Devil phase consisted only of a 120 sq. metre shed thickly populated with pigeons. Where was the space and the facility to integrate the five missiles which would arrive here shortly?

The Environmental Test Facility and the Avionics Laboratory were equal y cramped and il -equipped. I visited the nearby Imarat Kancha area. It used to be the test range for anti-tank missiles developed by DRDL decades ago. The
