the horizon endless possibilities stretching out before IGMDP; and our enthusiasm proved infectious. We were excited and encouraged to see the best professionals in the country gravitating towards IGMDP. Who would not want to associate with a winner? The word had evidently got around that the IGMDP was a born winner.

We were at a meeting laying down the targets for 1984, when news came of Dr Brahm Prakash's death on the evening of 3 January at Bombay. It was a great emotional loss for me, for I had had the privilege of working under him during the most chal enging period of my career. His compassion and humility were exemplary. His healing touch on the day of the failed SLV-E1 flight surfaced in my memory serving to deepen my sorrow.

If Prof. Sarabhai was the creator of VSSC, Dr Brahm Prakash was the executor. He had nurtured the institution when it most needed nourishment. Dr Brahm Prakash played a very important role in shaping my leadership skil s. In fact my association with him was a turning point in my
