IGMDP on 27 September 1984. Experts from DRDO Laboratories, ISRO, academic institutions, and production agencies gathered to critical y review the progress made and problems faced in the first year of implementation. Major decisions like the creation of facilities at Imarat Kancha and the establishment of a test facility were crystal ized during the review. The future infrastructure at the Imarat Kancha was given the name of Research Centre Imarat (RCI), retaining the original identity of the place.

It was a pleasure to find an old acquaintance, TN Seshan, on the review board. Between SLV-3 and now, we had developed a mutual affection. However, this time as the Defence Secretary, Seshan's queries about the schedules and viability of financial propositions presented were much more pointed. Seshan is a person who enjoys verbal y bringing adversaries to their knees. Using his sharp-edged humour, Seshan would make his opponents look ridiculous. Although he is prone to be loud and can turn argumentative on occasions, in the end he would always ensure maximization of al available resources towards a solution that was within implementation. At a personal level, Seshan is a very kind-hearted and considerate person. My
