today, we import hovercrafts. The project was mired in controversies and was final y shelved. It was a new experience for me. So far, I had believed that the sky was the limit, but now it appeared that the limits were much closer. There are boundaries that dictate life: you can only lift so much weight; you can only learn so fast; you can only work so hard; you can only go so far!

I was unwil ing to face reality. I had put my heart and soul into Nandi. That it would not be used was something beyond my comprehension. I was disappointed and disil usioned. In this period of confusion and uncertainty, memories from my childhood came back to me and I discovered new meanings in them.

Pakshi Sastry used to say, “Seek the truth, and the truth shal set you free.” As the Bible says, “Ask and you shal receive.” It did not happen immediately, but it happened nevertheless. One day, Dr Mediratta cal ed me. He inquired about the state of our hovercraft. When told that it was in perfect condition to be flown, he asked me to organize a demonstration for an important visitor the next day. No VIP was scheduled to visit the laboratory during the next week as far as I knew. However, I communicated Dr Mediratta’s
