

The Soviet medium-range R-12 missile installations in Cuba were first detected by a U-2 spy plane on October 14, 1962, setting off the crisis. This photo of the installations was presented to the United Nations on October 25, 1962. (PICTORIAL PRESS LTD / ALAMY STOCK PHOTO)