Khan, et al.'

165. Muhammed Aatique was sentenced to ten years and two months in prison; Ibrahim al-Hamdi to seventeen years; Ali al-Timimi to life in prison; Asad Ali Chandia to fifteen years in prison; Seifullah Chapman to eighty-five years; Khwaja Mahmood Hasan to eleven years and three months; Masoud Ahmad Khan to sixty-five years; Yong Ki Kwon to eleven years and six months and Randall Todd Royer to twenty years. Several other men who did not train with Lashkar, but were involved in the Virginia Jihad Network, were sentenced to short prison terms as well. For a detailed list of indictments, plea agreements and trial outcomes, see: The Investigative Project, 'The Rise of Lashkar-e-Tayyiba,' 2010, Appendix B.
166. Sajid Mir was known to the men as Abu Baraa, one of his many aliases. Memorandum Opinion in 'United States vs. Masoud Khan, et al.'
167. United States Attorney's Office Eastern District of Virginia, '"Virginia Jihad" Member Convicted of Perjury, Obstruction,' 5 Feb. 2007.
168. Indictment in 'United States vs. Ali Asad Chandia and Mohammed Ajmal Khan.'
169. United States Attorney Southern District of New York, 'Bronx Martial Arts Instructor Pleads Guilty to Conspiring to Support al Qaida,' 4 Apr. 2007.
170. Ibid.
171. Brent pled guilty to conspiring to provide material support to Lashkar and was sentenced to fifteen years in prison. Shah pled guilty to conspiring to provide material support to al-Qaeda and agreeing to train would-be jihadis in martial arts. He also received fifteen years in prison. Sabir was convicted of providing material support to al-Qaeda and sentenced to thirty years in prison. See respectively: United States Attorney Southern District of New York, 'Maryland Man Sentenced to 15 Years For Providing Material Support to Terrorist Organization,' 25 July 2007. United States Attorney Southern District of New York, 'Bronx Martial Arts Instructor Pleads Guilty to Conspiring to Support al Qaida.' United States Attorney Southern District of New York, 'Florida Doctor Convicted of Conspiring and Attempting to Support Al Qaida,' 21 May 2007.