“An excellent volume on the multidimensional relationship between China and India and the emerging patterns of conflict and cooperation between the two rising powers. A must-read for anyone interested in the geopolitics of the Indo-Pacific, past, present and future.”

– T.V. Paul, James McGill Professor of International Relations, McGill University, Canada

“This examination of Delhi’s long record on balancing and befriending China offers important insights into the making of India’s great power relations.”

– C. Raja Mohan, Director, Institute of South Asian Studies, National University of Singapore

“A volume of incisive essays, most opportune in the 70th year of the establishment of diplomatic ties between India and China.”

– Sujan R. Chinoy, Director General, Institute for Defence Studies and Analyses, New Delhi

“This is a multi-faceted and very rich compilation of Indian responses to China’s rise, with contributions from leading scholars.”

– Jonathan Holslag, Professor of International Politics, Free University of Brussels