the oceans, including from plastic litter; building capacity and fairly sharing resources; reducing disaster risk; enhancing science, technology, and academic cooperation; and promoting free, fair, and mutually beneficial trade and maritime transport (Figure 9.2).[26]