annulments, while bureaucratic decisions would still be subject to them. The change could allow the reappointment of Deri as minister of the interior and of health.

An army operation in Jenin went wrong and several soldiers were wounded. The military chiefs of Hamas and Islamic Jihad are in Tehran for talks.

Tuesday, June 20

Four Israelis were killed in a terror attack in the occupied West Bank, as revenge for the killings in Jenin. Settlers set fire to Palestinian houses and fields to avenge the Jewish dead. The vicious circle goes on, unabated.

The candidate of the opposition won the elections to the national lawyers' committee by an immense majority.

Wednesday, June 21/Thursday, June 22

The three judges in the main Netanyahu court case, who have dealt with the issue for over two years, declared that the indictment for corruption against the prime minister was weak and that it was recommended, also to appease the public, to seek a plea deal. A turn of events that may lead to changes in the general atmosphere.

Sunday, July 2

Very large military operation in the Jenin refugee camp. Special forces and paratroopers with support from the air. Apparently, the largest operation in twenty years. Large quantities of armaments and explosives have been found. The question is: will this help in the long run, or even in the short run? Or will it help Netanyahu?
