Nehru, Jawaharlal—(Continued).
at Lucknow, 178-180; independence and social freedom, 182, 183; rumours of arrest, 184; All-India Trade Union Congress, 186; president of the T.U.C., 187; arrests of labour leaders, 188; Meerut Case Defence Committee, 189; khadi propaganda, 191, 192; terrorist activity, hunger strike, 193; succeed father as president of Congress, 194; Round Table Conference announced, 195; interview with Lord Irwin, 197; Congress and Labour, 198; Whitley Commission, 198; split in Labour movement, 199; Lahore Congress and Independence, 201; Independence Day, 202; visits from pilgrims, 203; popularity and hero-worship, 204-208; Civil Disobedience, 209; Dandi Salt March, 210; arrested, 213; women in the national struggle, 214; Naini Central Prison, 217; prison population, horrors of prison system, 220-224; peace efforts, 227-229; release, 231; no-tax campaign, 231-233; rearrested, 234; Civil Disobedience spreads, 235; fear of agrarian upheaval, 237; prison floggings, 238; life in Naini, 239; Round Table Conference, dominion, status, alarm of vested interests, 241, 242; Resolution of Remembrance, 243; delegates return home, 249; talks at Delhi, 250-256; the Delhi Pact, 257; Civil Disobedience prisoners released, 263; agrarian problem, 264; Karachi Congress, 265, 266; interview with M. N. Roy, 265; Ahrar Party, Hindu-Muslim riots, 269; Ceylon, 271; back to India, 272; White Jews, Syrian Christians, 273; second Round Table Conference, 276; Bengal Terrorism, agrarian riots, 277; Khudai Khidmatgar, 278; "Frontier Gandhi", 279; India's basic problem is the land, 281; second Round Table Conference, 285; journalist fictions, 286-290; Conference unsatisfactory, 292; jobbery, reaction and vested interests, 293-295; agrarian trouble in the U.P., 297; starving peasantry, rent and debts, 302-308; repressive policy, 309; approaching crisis, 309; incident in Hijli, 313; Chittagong shooting, 314; unwisdom of terrorism, 315, 316; special Ordinance, public activities forbidden, arrested, 317-320; condemned to rigorous imprisonment, 322; Congress declared illegal, and abused by the Press, 323-326; Government coercion, 327-329 severe treatment of women, 330; release and rearrest, 336; Civil Disobedience practically killed, 338; third Round Table Conference, 341; police punitive measures, whippings, treatment of women prisoners, 342, 343; gaol routine, 348; Dehra Dun Gaol, 353; wasps, hornets, bats and other animals, 355-359; thoughts about Russia and world conditions, 361-363; Communist criticism of Congress, 365; political independence the aim of Congress, 366; the peasantry, 368; the depressed classes, 372; the intrusion of religion, 374-380; Harijan movement, 381; Sarda Act a failure, 383; further suspension of Civil Disobedience, 384; the White Paper, 386; how received by Liberals and Responsivists, 388-390; release, 398; India under coercion, 399; personal matters to attend to, 402; talks with Gandhiji, 403; Socialism and Communism in India, 407; Indian Liberals a colourless and vanishing species, 409-413; Congress originally a middle-class body, 416; "Indianisation", 417; "Dominion Status", 418; "Tiger of Imperialism", 419; White Paper a barrier to progress, 423; British protection is Indian subjection, 427; English ignorance of India, 429; Bharat Mata, 431; what has British rule done for India, 433-436; India a servile State, 437; sycophancy and nepotism, 440; adulation of the I.C.S., 441-444; burden of the Defence Services, 446; ineptitude of Generals, 447; language question in India, 453, 454; my address at the Hindu University, 458; Communalism in India partly a struggle for jobs, 460-466; the "Muslim nation", 469; "Muslim culture", 470; religion and politics parting company, 472; fear of rearrest, 473; Press articles and censorship, 475; attend to domestic affairs, 478; Independence Day, 479; earthquake, 481; I denounce terrorism in Bengal, 482; earthquake relief work, 484-487; return from relief work and rearrest, 491; Court proceedings in Calcutta, 493; imprisoned for the seventh time, 494; Alipore Central Gaol, 495-497; liberty under an eclipse, 498; not intended for India, 500; Civil Disobedience withdrawn, 504; Gandhiji's reasons, 505; recognise Gandhiji's services, 508; some criticism of Gandhiji's philosophy of life, 511-519; the myth of a past Golden Age, 520; Socialism the cure for world evils, 523; the khadi movement, 524; village industries, 525; mass production, 527;