Sitting amongst a large group of inmates – watching a function in jail.

Being hugged by foreign inmates in a gesture of thanks for making life better.