

Thor Intermediate Range Ballistic Missile. Sixty Thors were deployed in East Anglia at the time of the crisis. Like the Jupiters they could fire a megaton yield warhead at ranges beyond Moscow. On 27 October 1962, fifty-nine Thors were ready to fire and would have taken as little as thirteen or fourteen minutes to launch once the order was received. (Public Domain)