

The infamous crawling order enacted after the Amritsar Massacre. Indians were made to crawl on all fours past the spot where a British woman had been attacked in the days leading up to the massacre.

