such values in individual polling stations, a rejection of only 1.15 per cent in total was theoretically practically impossible. The SED made another serious mistake: on 10 May 1989, the party newspaper Neues Deutschland published the alleged results with exact numbers down to the level of city districts.

7. Wolf. p.324

8. Honecker Cross Examined . p.41

9. Ibid p.42

10. Schabowski. p.142

11. The GDR Volkskammer called the massacre in Tiananmen Square on June 4 the ‘putting-down of a counter-revolution.’

12. Honecker Cross Examined . p.42

13. Kunze, Thomas. Staatschef: Die letzten Jahre des Erich Honecker . Links, 2011. p.77

14. ZDF History ‘Honecker’.

15. ARD interview with Honecker, 1991.

16. Honecker Cross Examined . p.46

17. Schmemann ‘a wistful glance back’. Cited from Jeffrey Gedmin, Hidden Hand . p.105

18. The Schalck Papers, Vienna, 1991. p.410

19. FBIS-WEU-91102. 28 May 1991. Cited from Hidden Hand, Geoffrey Gedmin. p.104.

20. Kuzmin, Khrushcnie. GDR. pp.112–13.