‘Don’t feel any pain or weakness,’ Honecker noted in his diary before entering room 700 of Moabit criminal court (pictured). After being called over to the dock, he described his trial as a travesty of justice. (Nathan Morley)

After 57 years, Honecker returned to Moabit prison. (Nathan Morley)