```
        return redirect()->back();

    }

}
```

This allows users to clear their in-app alerts after reviewing them. This whole method ensures that any critical updates or system messages are delivered to users in real time and displayed in a user-friendly format.