Scheduling Custom Artisan Command

Once your custom Artisan command is ready, within the schedule() method, add an entry to run your command at a desired frequency. For example, to run the archival script daily at 3 AM:

```
protected function schedule(Schedule $schedule)

{

    // Schedule the image archival process to run daily at 3 AM

    $schedule->command('images:archive')->dailyAt('03:00');

This configuration ensures that the images:archive command is executed automatically by Laravel's Scheduler without any manual intervention. With the above detailed steps, you successfully configured custom task automation scripts integrated with Laravel commands for our app.
