```
    protected $description = 'Generate an analytical summary of application data and store it in a report file';

    /
     * Execute the console command.
     *
     * @return int
     */
    public function handle()
    {
        $this->info('Starting report generation...');

        // Fetch data for the report; for example, get user registration count and post totals.
```