our economy. Tax reform, I thought, would not only accelerate the economic expansion but make our whole system of taxation more fair.

In 1986, after almost two years of haggling with Congress, we got the tax reform bill we wanted.