actions by Arab nations to destroy Israel. Nevertheless, the region has been the focus of a number of military actions, including an IDF invasion of southern Lebanon in 1982 that continued intermittently until 2000, as well as fighting between the IDF and organizations such as the Palestinian Liberation Organization (PLO) and Hamas, particularly in the Gaza Strip.

Victory in the 1948 war allowed Israel to consolidate and, in subsequent wars, to increase the territory it controlled. However, to date, this victory has not brought lasting peace or stability to this troubled region.
