27 For example, Fidel Castro gave Senator George McGovern a list of 24 assassination attempts against him. The CIA admitted “operational relationships” with nine of the would-be assassins, but claimed that it had not explicitly arranged these assassination attempts. Thus the Committee did not include these nine in its investigation (U.S. Congress, Senate, Alleged Assassination Plots, p. 71). Information has slowly emerged concerning CIA sponsorship of other assassination attempts, including one by Felix Rodriguez during CIA training for the Bay of Pigs invasion. See Rodriguez and Weisman, Shadow Warrior, pp. 65–6. According to Fabián Escalante of Cuba’s Department of State Security, Cuban intelligence uncovered 634 plots with CIA involvement between 1958 and 2000. See “La lucha político-ideológica fue en todas partes,” entrevista al General (r) Fabián Escalante”, Temas 56 (Sept–Dec, 2008).
