32. Lorde also wrote an updated foreword for the release of Farbe Bekennen's English translation, Showing Our Colors, in 1991. Writing from her home in St. Croix, with her updated foreword dated July 30, 1990, Lorde shares new perspectives on the reunification of Germany. She writes, "The material in Farbe Bekennen gains new importance now at this juncture in German history, when impending reunification raises critical questions about definitions of German identity." She adds, "The grim wall that once enclosed this city kept it at an equal distance from West Germany and Europe. … Now the wall is down." In addition to referring to the Berlin Wall, Lorde introduces the refrain "East and West" throughout the foreword to talk about both the coalitions of Afro-German organizations working together across the former divide and global conservative "white superpowers … deciding to come together despite their ideological differences because … even they can see the handwriting on the wall" (Opitz, Oguntoye, and Schultz, Showing Our Colors, x–xiv.

33. As Lorde described it to German publishers as she sat in Schultz's Berlin apartment in 1991, the project she realized had a lot to do with "the shifting of perspectives" rather than fundamental or foundational change: "That is the kind of thing I'm talking about. It is not that you alter inside what you know to be so, it is that you see the shifting of differences. And that is why the magical and the marvelous arithmetics, the ways in which of what is, because arithmetics deals with basically what is" (private video, Dagmar Schultz, 1991; transcribed by the author).

34. All citations of this poem refer to Audre Lorde, "East Berlin," in Lorde, Marvelous Arithmetics of Distance, 50.

35. All citations of this poem refer to Audre Lorde, "Peace on Earth: Christmas, 1989," in Lorde, Marvelous Arithmetics of Distance, 39.

36. Audre Lorde, "Restoration: A Memorial—9/18/91," in Lorde, Marvelous Arithmetics of Distance, 40.

37. Audre Lorde "1984"—Last Reading in Berlin 1992, https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ceXFKzO7gZQ.

38. De Veaux, Warrior Poet, 366.

39. Press kit, Audre Lorde: The Berlin Years, http://www.audrelordetheberlinyears.com/images/presskit/pressRelease.pdf. In July 2019, the New York Times published a travel feature by writer Charly Wilder, "A Berlin That Audre Lorde Would Appreciate," drawing on Schultz's archive and revisiting sites prominent to Lorde's history in Berlin.