imperialists. SNCC also claimed that the Rothschilds controlled "much of Africa's mineral wealth."[11]

Like SNCC, the newspaper of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), New Left Notes, declared that the Rothschilds had provided important early backing to the Zionist movement in order to promote their "financial interests."[12] The Maoist Youth Against War and Fascism defended a far left French student attack on the Rothschild bank in Paris in 1968, claiming that the bank symbolized "the class character of Zionism."[13]

During succeeding decades, American far left organizations advanced similarly vitriolic attacks on Zionists for allegedly using Nazi methods to displace the Arabs from Palestine in an effort to seize its resources and expand their economic influence across vast territories. The Black Panther Party equated "what the Zionists and the state of Israel did and are doing to the Arabs" to "what the Nazis did to the Jews." It called Israeli soldiers "fascist storm troopers" who confined Arabs in "modern concentration camps."[14] Like the Nazis, the Israelis were "arrogant" and pursued an aggressively expansionist foreign policy. Their objective was to establish "a religious Jewish state from the Nile to the Euphrates."[15] The Panthers charged that "Zionist Jews" had sustained Israel since it was established as a nation in 1948 by extracting "blood and wealth" from South Africa. Its newspaper approvingly cited a Pan-Africanist's statement that South Africa's gold mines were "owned by Zionists."[16]

Recent American far left groups also equate the demonic Jewish state with the Third Reich. The quasi-Trotskyist International Socialist Organization (ISO) has accused the Jewish state of "dispossession, systematic racism, collective punishment and wholesale warfare" against "a population guilty of nothing other than their own existence."[17] Not coincidentally, these were the crimes of which Nazi Germany was guilty. In 1969 New Left Notes asserted that Israel's foreign policy, which it called expansionist and chauvinist, was rooted in the concept that Jews were a Chosen People, which it implied resembled the Nazis' Aryan master race doctrine. Israeli Jews felt entitled to rule over peoples they considered inferior.[18] Fire, the newspaper of SDS's Weatherman faction, stated that Israel, which, in fact, has one of the world's most diverse populations, promoted "racial exclusiveness," like Nazi Germany. It claimed that Israeli schools indoctrinated students "with hatred of the Arab."[19]

Decades before, the American Communist Party (CPUSA) had also portrayed Zionism as a criminal movement, when it justified the horrific pogroms against Jews across Palestine in 1929 simply as a progressive anti-imperialist uprising. The CP denounced Zionism's "rich leaders" for carrying
