and sub-networks. It uses humanitarian and moral language while sumitting itself to cynical economic interests, global Islamist terrorism, jihadist threats and OIC strategy.

The anti-Jewish war conducted by the jihadist movement encompasses a dynamic that ultimately threatens Christian Europe no less than Israel. It spreads in Europe with the support of self-destructive forces that undermine Europe's political, cultural, and religious identity, as well as undermining its security. In their efforts to create a Euro-compatibility with Islam, European leaders proceeded to destroy piece by piece European identities, values, histories and security apparatuses. They based their security on their alliance with and support for the Palestinians and whitewashing terrorist violence against Israel. However, more Europeans are now beginning to realize that they are losing their freedom, identity, and values. What is their identity? Are they Christians or Muslims now that they have replaced the Jewish Jesus with the Arab Palestinian Jesus; or if they accept the Koranic Islamization of the Hebrew Patriarchs in Hebron without a word of protest; or when they outlawed Jewish circumcision but not the Muslim rite; why is this Europe spending billions of Euros on the BDS campaign for the destruction of Israel and its replacement by Palestine? Do Europeans really want Jerusalem to become al-Quds, the seat of the resurrected Caliphate, whose horrific contemporary expression can best be seen in the deserts of Iraq and Syria?

Billions have been spent by European leaders to obtain Muslim approval through grovelling apology, self-indictment, exaggerated humility, continuous slander against Israel and the politics of appeasement. To be pardoned and loved by Muslims, European leaders went as far as seeking to "Islamize" Europe and collaborating with radical and terrorist movements. And now, in the European heartland, the world of chaos is spreading. In August 2014, answering the call of Abu Imad Rifai, head of the Islamic Jihad, tens of thousands of Muslims flanked by their European supporters, swept through Europe's main cities like the Caliphate's army, shouting their support for Hamas, the Palestinian twin of the Islamic State. Five months later, in January 2015, the murderous assault on Charlie Hebdo and the kosher supermarket in Paris by jihadist killers, announced a further escalation in the advanced process of European decay.
