

Sketch 2.1 (From A Royal Tribute by Major General E. D'Souza, ARB Interactive, Mumbai 2005.)

In a way, my grandfather was fortuitous to have been wounded in an earlier phase of the siege, and was evacuated by the Red Cross and taken out of the theatre along with the other casualties. He took a machine-gun burst on his right elbow, and the joint, along with the radius and the ulna, got shattered. As a young soldier all of
