I am and have always been a team man. Therefore, my first step was to create a close-knit, loyal and dependable team of personal staff. This team was to act as my eyes and ears, and I encouraged them to give me honest feedback, frank views and pragmatic advice. Even till this day, my team continues to display an amazing spirit and camaraderie. They have never failed me.

---

[1] Harinder Baweja, Tehelka, 26 February 2005.

[2] The Warrior Lord, as the C-in-C of the army was referred to during the Raj period.

[3] Field Marshal Bill Slim, Defeat into Victory, Cassell and Company Ltd, 1956, also republished by Cooper Square Press in 2000.