want to restrain them from carrying out effective and speedy operations against the unscrupulous and faceless terrorists who strike and disappear instantly. National cohesion and integrity will be seriously jeopardized if the armed forces fail in their mission. However, if there are any ambiguities in the AFSPA, they need to be sorted out; value additions to make it more humane would also be welcome.

---

[1] Jason Burke, WikiLeaks cables, www.guardian.co.uk, 16 December 2010.

[2] The Daily Telegraph, London, 1 September 1992.

[3] Interview given by me to FORCE, September 2007.

[4] M.B. Naqvi, The News (Pakistan) 15 May, 2001.

[5] Murtaza Razvi, Musharraf – The Years in Power, HarperCollins, p. 207.

[6] Sheikh Abdullah, Aatish-e-Chinar.

[7] Murkot Ramunny, The World of Nagas, Northern Book Centre, New Delhi, 1988, p. 310.

[8] Ibid, p. 357.

[9] Statistics from the Ministry of Home Affairs website.

[10] Constitution of the CPI (Maoist), http://www.bannedthought.net/india/CPIMaoist-Docs/index.htm, last accessed on 12 December 2010.