general. He led a happy team and believed in the motto, ‘Work hard and play hard.’ He has many admirers and friends in Kolkata because of his stint as GOC-in-C of Eastern Command. I would fail in my responsibility if I do not mention Sam Bahadur’s concern for his men, the gallant soldiers of his regiment, the 8th Gurkha Rifles, and the Indian Army. For most of us who had the privilege and good fortune to serve under his leadership, he was our role model. Equally important as icons of leadership are Field Marshal K.M. Cariappa and Marshal of the Air Force Arjan Singh. As a couple, Arjan Singh and his charming and gracious wife, Teji, shall forever remain as a role model for both Rohini and me and for the fraternity of the armed forces.
