Based on my performance as a brigade commander, and my overall track record, I was selected to attend the highly regarded National Defence College course at the end of this assignment, and awarded the commendation of the chief of army staff.