

Nancy and her mother, Deede, shortly before she died. I’ve never known a closer bond to exist between two people than between Nancy and her mother.