press, even. But just leaving the game? I wouldn't have done it that way. I love and respect Inzi bhai and we all stood behind him that day as he was the captain. But I would have thought of a less confrontational way to save the match as well as our honour.

Yes, a Pathan just recommended non-confrontation. Take that and run with it.