administration and in the conditions of the entire jail and its inmates. He was certainly in a position to discern the changes because he himself had spent thirteen months as a prisoner here during the Emergency days. So impressed was he that he announced publicly that he would be seeking her help beyond the prison duties.

DELHI CM SEEKS KIRAN BEDI'S HELP

'I want Mrs Kiran Bedi's help to bring about revolutionary changes in Delhi,' … Mr Madan Lal Khurana said today.

Speaking at a function organised in the Central Tihar Jail complex here, Mr Khurana said Delhi's Inspector General of Prisons, Mrs Kiran Bedi, has introduced a series of reforms in the jail. 'We are also planning revolutionary changes in Delhi. For this I want Mrs Kiran Bedi's help.'

Mr Khurana recalled that he had fought with Mrs Bedi several times in the past. 'But there was nothing personal in these, fights. I am proud of her.'

Several jail officials entreated Mr Khurana, while he was leaving, not to transfer Mrs Bedi from Tihar and added that if this were to happen the jail staff as well as the prisoners would stage a dharna at his residence.

Mrs Bedi, who was listening to this conversation, interjected to say: 'I am jailed'.

(The Hindu, 19 December 1993)