matter of fact there's still so much more that should be given to us. So what she [IG (Prisons)] is doing is no big deal.'

'Hey', chipped in Wilfred, a 'seasoned' inmate, 'this guy's been here only six months. He's just a weekender. I've been here for over eight years. Who respected our rights earlier? We were beaten, abused and given food you wouldn't give a stray dog. It's only now that we are being treated like human beings. Boy, it sure takes guts to change people's attitudes in such a short time. I think she's doing a great job here. But I wonder what will happen here when she is posted out. Will the old days come back with a vengeance?'