Appendix 2

A Profile

(Website: www.kiranbedi.com)

Date of birth:	9 June 1949
Place of birth:	Amritsar
Parents:	Parkash Lal and Prem Lata Peshawaria
Siblings:	In all, four sisters. • Shashi, an artist and a PhD in philosophy. She is now in Canada. • Reeta, a clinical psychologist, tennis champion and a well-known author of books on behavioural therapy along with her husband Dr Keerti Menon, a clinical psychologist. They are both now in the UK. •Anu, an immigration lawyer, national tennis champion (thrice) and Wimbledon player, now in the USA
Marital status:	Married to Brij Bedi, a textile engineer, tennis player and a social activist
Children:	One daughter, Saina (honorary director, Navjyoti), married to Ruzbeh Bharucha (author, journalist and documentary film maker)

Academic

Sacred Heart School, Amritsar; graduation in English (Hons), Government College for Women, Amritsar; Masters in political science from Punjab University, Chandigarh (university topper); law degree from Delhi University; PhD from the Department of Social Sciences, Indian Institute of Technology, Delhi (topic: 'Drug Abuse and Domestic Violence'); awarded the Jawaharlal Nehru Fellowship to write about the work done at Tihar Jail during her tenure as IG (prisons); and recipient of two honorary doctorates: one from the Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar, and the other from the City University of New York (CUNY) Law School

Sports

National junior tennis champion (1966); national senior tennis champion (1976); and Asian tennis champion (1972), who has represented India in international tournaments

Career highlights