This method retrieves (or simulates) user data based on the dynamic URL parameter, then passes the data to a view for rendering.

Creating Blade View to Render Data

For this, first navigate to the resources/views directory and create a new folder named Within this folder, create a file called After this, insert the following HTML and Blade code into

---

html>

lang="en">