* A flank is generally a ‘side’, for example, the left flank or the right flank of a column. In a barracks, a flank is a side, either left or right. Here, it means the rooms on one side of one floor in a building.
* An ACP, or an approach control pilot, hut is a small hut at the end of the runway to assist trainee pilots in landing. They are in direct RT contact with the pilot.